Be the hands and feet of Jesus for the suffering in Syria

“I remember living in Aleppo and waking up to the sound of bombs,” says Warda. “The fighting had come to our neighborhood. I said to my husband ‘I know we will die if we stay.’”

Warda and her family were able to escape Aleppo. They hear stories of their friends and neighbors killed by bombs and booby traps set in homes and are thankful their family is alive. But their struggle continues.

The conflict in Syria is in its seventh year and over half of all Syrians have been forced from their homes by fighting and violence. Over six million remain in Syria, displaced from their homes and community and family support, savings exhausted, truly just struggling to survive. Severe hunger is endemic and families like Warda’s, while thankful to be alive, do not feel safe or sure of their future in any way.

How Can You Help?

With your support, World Renew has been responding to this crisis since 2012. This fall, we have an amazing opportunity to provide emergency food relief to families like Warda’s and we need your help.

Seattle nonprofit One Day’s Wages will match every donation to World Renew this month for emergency food relief in Syria up to $100,000, giving us the opportunity to raise $200,000. Donations will go directly to an established network of local organizations in Syria that will provide at least six months of food assistance to families as well as vital connection to a local support system.

Your gift of just $30 can become $60, enough to provide emergency food for a family of six for a month.

Would you prayerfully consider how you can support this opportunity to be the hands and feet of Jesus in Syria right now?

To qualify for the matching gift, please give directly to One Day’s Wages no later than November 28, 2017.

You can give online at www.onedayswages.org/worldrenew.

If you prefer to give by mail, you may send a check to:
